In order to limit the spread of Coronavirus in Italy, the Government has introduced a series of prohibitions, which if not complied with, lead to arrest for up to 3 months or a fine of up to € 206.00. In particular, it is forbidden to move in and out of the Municipality in which you live and within the same Municipality, unless the movement is justified by reasons of work, situations of necessity (e.g. shopping and buying essential goods) or health reasons, which must be demonstrated by self-certification to be shown to the Police in case of control.
